WORKING FOR A CLEANER, GREENER AMERICA

The AbilityOne Program is proud that many of our products are made using materials that are environmentally responsible. This reflects our ongoing commitment to work for a cleaner, greener America.

As part of our dedication to creating a greener environment, we're happy to highlight a host of new biobased SKILCRAFT products offered through the BioPreferred program managed by the USDA. The program was created by the 2002 U.S. Farm Bill to increase the purchase and use of products made from renewable agricultural materials, including forestry, plant, animal and aquatic materials.

By encouraging the use of these materials, the program aims to create jobs, reduce petroleum use and help the environment. Many of these products are offered in our catalog and identified by the following symbols:

Third-party certified biobased products that carry the USDA Certified Biobased Product label. These products are not currently identified for preferred federal purchase.

Products that are designated for mandatory federal purchase as part of the BioPreferred program. These products have been third-party tested and meet or exceed the USDA's minimum biobased content requirements, but they do not currently carry the voluntary USDA Certified Biobased Product label.

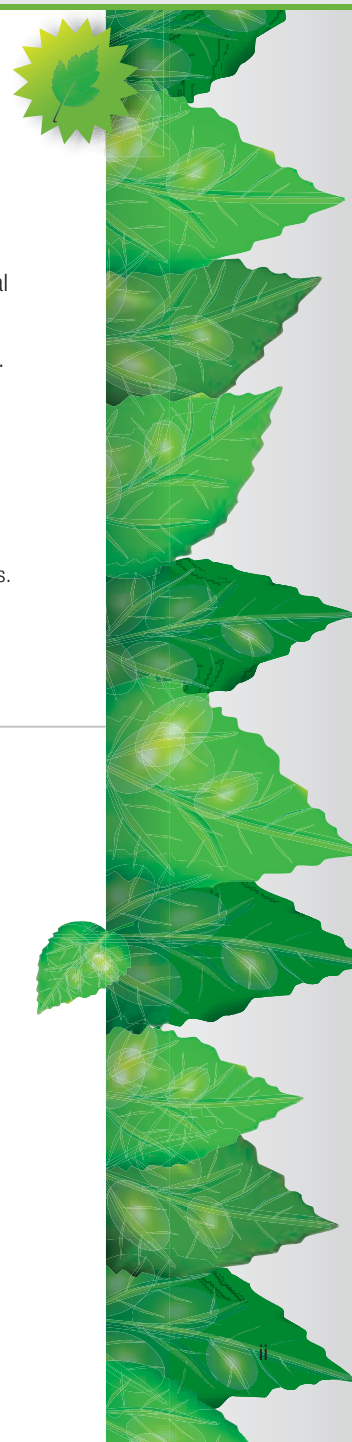

Products are made using renewable, domestic agricultural materials.

Items made from or containing recycled materials.

Product packaging made using recycled content.
